

Crisis Response for Universities and Colleges

On-site crisis response workshop and presentations for all university and college personnel

Daniel J. McGuire, President of CISM Perspectives, Inc., has been in the emergency services for more than 20 years and comes with an extensive background in comprehensive training, CISM team development and consultation programs that specialize in University Crisis Response training.

Mr. McGuire is board certified in University Crisis Response, a Fellow, the Regional Training Coordinator, and a member of the Professional Advisory Board of the American Academy of Experts in Traumatic Stress (www.aaets.org) and a longtime member of the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation (www.icisf.org).

New from CISM Perspectives, Inc.

When a crisis strikes today's universities and colleges, it can create a multitude of issues, challenges and problems.

University Crisis Response, a new training program from the American Academy of Experts in Traumatic Stress, presented by CISM Perspectives, Inc. will empower all university personnel:

- Administrators
- Existing Crisis Response Teams
- Public Safety/Campus Police
- Resident Hall Directors and Assistants
- Health Services Staff
- Counseling Center Staff
- Campus Ministry
- Media Relations Personnel
- Teaching Staff

to be able to effectively respond to any on-site crisis event.

In this workshop, Daniel J. McGuire, FAAETS, President of CISM Perspectives, Inc., will explore the impact that traumatic events have on our college and university students, faculty and staff, and provide powerful yet practical skills and approaches for managing a crisis on your campus. Ultimately, how to keep your staff functional during and after a traumatic event.
